The year started with Polly Garfield-Thomas taking on the very important roll of Secretary/Booking co-ordinator, a job she has taken on with a great deal of enthusiasm and endeavour, for which I most gratefully thank her.

Barbara Lynch has weaved her magic again and secured funding for the purchase of an overhead projector, which along with Gigaclear broadband was installed over the Christmas break and is a most welcome asset to the Village Hall, already being used for a film night, a point to point presentation, hirer's presentations, planning presentations and children's parties.

John Clarke has installed shelving in the ground floor store to accommodate equipment used for the fete, this saves heavy items from being manually passed to and from the store above the kitchen, a task a lot of villagers will be most grateful they no longer need to do at the end of a long day after the fete

We have managed acquire a couple of filing drawers and cabinets which have been placed in the first floor room, to archive anything of interest from or about the village for future generations to view when we have all moved on or gone to pastures new. So if anyone has anything tucked away you now know where it may be placed.

In summary, the Hall continues to be very well used by the surrounding community, is in good financial and physical order looking forward to another successful year.

Yours Faithfully

Robert Jeacock
